URGES FURTHER TAX REVISION

Leading Measures Merely of Temporary and Emergency Character, Penrose Points Out

REED MAKES ATTACK

Missouri Senator Declares Present Bill Is Infamous Piece of Legislation

Washington, Oct. 4.—Further revenue revision legislation ought to be enacted as soon as possible, Chairman Penrose of the senate finance committee, said today in a statement emphasizing that the pending measures were merely of a temporary and emergency character.

Discussing the sales tax, Senator Penrose said there was "no use of enacting novel or untried suggestions of taxation at a time when the people are suffering from the effects of the depression." He said that the pending measures were merely of a temporary and emergency character.

"Lift Taxes, Don't Shift Them," Mr. Penrose insisted that there had been no change in the house sentiment and that there should be a lifting and not a shifting of taxes. He said that the pending measures were merely of a temporary and emergency character.

NO SPECIAL TERM OF LEGISLATURE

Not Necessary for Purpose of Amending State Tax Law, Governor Miller Announces

Albany, Oct. 4.—Governor Miller announced today that it would not be necessary to convene the legislature in extraordinary session for the purpose of amending the direct state tax law because of the decision of the court of appeals holding the state bonus law unconstitutional. The governor's statement was based upon an opinion by Attorney General Charles D. Newton, was made known in a letter to Comptroller Charles L. Craig of New York city.

Comptroller Craig had suggested to the governor that the direct state tax law was made invalid by the court's ruling inasmuch as by an act of the legislature the 3 per cent tax for debt service was increased in one rate and the sinking funds not specifically prescribed. Mr. Newton's opinion held that the whole debt service item of the law was void but that the statute is divisible.

As the result of the court's decision and economies inaugurated in state service, the governor said, the state tax rate would be reduced from 2.95 mills last year to 1.542 this year, a total reduction of more than $12,566,000. Unfortunately, in many localities, he added, the tax burden has been increased so that the reduction in state taxes will be more than offset by increased local taxation.

MRS. O'GRADY TELLS STORY TO PROBES

Her "Persecution" by Police Commissioner Enright Presented in Detail

New York, Oct. 4.—Ellen O'Grady, who resigned as fifth deputy police commissioner last December, today told the Meyer legislative committee investigating city affairs that her resignation followed "persecution by Police Commissioner Enright" extending through her term of office.

She said Mr. Enright hampered her activities as chief of the department's welfare work and interfered when she sought to prosecute moving picture houses because of immoral conduct within them.

She also charged that the commissioner's secretary, with former Police Inspector Edward P. Hughes, blocked an attempt on the part of police women to arrest "two very wealthy men who had taken two young 17-year-old girls into their apartments where they miscondacted themselves" and that her prosecution was intensified after this incident.

U. S. WOMEN'S GOLF TITLE IN DANGER

Possibility of English Woman Winning Championship Increases as Result of Yesterday's Play

(By The Associated Press)
Deal, N. J., Oct. 4.—The danger of the women's golf championship of the United States being captured by an English woman increased today when three representatives of Great Britain survived the first round of match play of the international tournament in impressive style at the Hollywood Golf club.

Miss Cecil Leitch, champion of Great Britain, France and Canada, won by eight and seven, eliminating Mrs. R. H. Hammer of New York.

The greatest upset of the day was the defeat of Miss Glenna Collett of Providence, who had tied for the qualifying medal, by Miss Edith Leitch, sister of the British champion, three and two.

Binghamton, Oct. 4.—Twenty-five thousand dollars damages were awarded Miss Louis Humberger of Binghamton by a supreme court jury here today in her negligence action against Cornell university for the loss of her left eye following an explosion in the chemical laboratory of the college during an experiment she was performing in 1916. Justice A. L. Kellogg of Oneonta presided.

The case will be appealed to the highest courts, it was said by counsel for the defendant following the verdict. The case is said to establish a precedent in New York state and may have far-reaching effects in similar cases against educational institutions.

NO AIRSHIP EVER SO WELL TESTED AS THE BIG ZR-2

Hull, England, Oct. 4.—A coroner's jury investigating the disaster to the dirigible ZR-2, which fell into the Humber river August 24, killing more than 40 men, among them 16 Americans, rendered a verdict today that it was due to an accident brought about by the breaking of the airship from some cause or causes unknown.

While the inquest was particularly into the death of Lieutenant Commander Charles G. Little of the American navy, verdicts of accidental death were rendered in all the cases.

Harry Esteman, one of the surviving scientific experts on board the ZR-2, testified that the first test of the craft was carried out satisfactorily at a speed of 40 knots. He said the other experts were so satisfied with the condition of the airship that they were anxious to cross the Atlantic in her. No previous airship had ever been so thoroughly tested; its structural strength was never doubted.

LLOYD GEORGE LAUDS DISARMAMENT PLANS

Forthcoming Conference Will "Affect Human History for Centuries," He Says

(By The Associated Press)
Inverness, Scotland, Oct. 4.—Prime Minister Lloyd George in a speech here today concerning unemployment, deviated in his introduction to refer optimistically to the forthcoming conference in Washington on limitation of armaments, declaring "it will constitute one of those outstanding events which will affect human history for centuries."

Mr. Lloyd George touched on the Irish question, declaring the London conference beginning October 11, between representatives of the British government and the Sinn Fein can only succeed if those who enter it make up their minds definitely and resolutely to trust to the common sense of their own people and do not try the reconcealing of the extremists.

Mr. Lloyd George said he had hoped to further the Irish question while in the highlands but that through no fault of his or his colleagues he did not succeed. "At any rate when we enter the conference which will be held in London," he declared, "we shall do so with what is known as the Inverness formula, which was signed in a very chamber and dishonored to the representatives of the Irish people."

Dealing with unemployment he emphasized that it was not ordinary trade depression but a world condition due to shattering effects upon the world's trade, credit and competition.

"The nations have had to mortgage their resources and pledge their future," Lloyd George said. "The result is that it has led to impoverishment. Traders, investors and workmen—and everybody dependent upon them—must be impoverished for years to come."

Meantime, the premier said, it was necessary to look after the needy.

MOTORIST SPEEDS AWAY AFTER INJURING MAN

Albany, Oct. 4.—After being knocked unconscious by an unidentified auto truck early this morning, Henry Fisher, 43, a carpenter, found upon coming to that his left leg had been torn from his head.

Just as Fisher made this discovery the driver of the truck came up and asked if he was hurt.

Upon seeing the lacerated ear, the driver hurried back to the truck and continued west. Due to the pain he suffered and the fact that the license number on the truck was partly hidden under the chassis of the machine, Fisher was unable to get the number.

A passing auto hurried him to hospital and officials there notified the police. Patrolman Gregory went out in a police car but was unable to trace the truck. In the meanwhile the Schenectady authorities were requested to keep on the lookout for the truck.

Hospital physicians sewed on the ear and Fisher went home.

FLASHLESS GUN POWDER READY

Makes Possible Night Firing Without Illumination, a Much Desired Battle Asset

TO TEST IT FRIDAY

Heaviest Single Unit of Ordnance in World Also Will Be Inspected By Officials

(By The Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 4.—Flashless gun powder, making possible night firing without illumination, one of the recent developments of the army ordnance corps, will be demonstrated Friday at the third annual meeting of the Army Ordnance association at the Aberdeen proving grounds.

Since the invention and use of smokeless powder, which eliminated the locating of guns in daylight, ordnance experts have been working to prevent similar "spouting" at night. This has now been accomplished, it was learned today. Night firing with guns as large as five inch, in which the muzzle was barely visible to observers 50 feet away, have recently been conducted with no more than a momentarily dull red glow, and no illumination whatever.

This has been accomplished by introducing substances into the powder which when the gun is fired are volatilized, diffusing and cooling the hot inflammable gases. Ordinarily these gases burst into brilliant flames when they meet the air. Salt and chloride of potash, it is said, are two substances used to eliminate the flash. It also has been demonstrated that the report is appreciably lessened with flashless charges.

Heaviest Piece of Ordnance.

Other features of the Friday program include the firing of the "heaviest single unit of ordnance in the world," the recently perfected 16-inch, 50 calibre gun mounted on a disappearing carriage. The gun measures 69 feet in length, weighs 346,000 pounds and requires 350 pounds of smokeless powder to propel its 2,400 pound projectile approximately 22 miles. Although the gun and its mount weigh nearly 800 tons it can be rotated through 360 degrees by one man and elevated or depressed 30 degrees by another, while it is operating at the rate of one shot per minute. Special equipment also permits the manipulation of the piece by electricity.

Another rifle of the same type has been mounted on a barbet carriage, permitting an elevation of 45 degrees and is expected to have a greater range than any gun now carried by naval craft.

A new and enlarged Browning rapid fire gun of 50 calibre intended for defensive use against aircraft and tanks will be demonstrated. The ammunition used by this weapon is twice as large as that used in the World War and the rate of fire has been greatly increased.

Self-propelled gun mounts carrying 75 mm. guns and 105 and 155 mm. howitzers will compete in races from a given point to the firing line where they will open fire at a distant target.

Night operations will include the firing of tracer ammunition at free balloons permitting the observation of the projectiles to be observed during their flight.

NURSE TAKES BLAME FOR WOMAN'S DEATH

Ready to Face Murder Charge If Husband of Slain Virginia Woman Is Released

Fredericksburg, Va., Oct. 4.—Miss Sarah E. Knox, Baltimore nurse, who with Roger D. Eastlake, naval petty officer, is held in custody here in connection with the killing last Friday of Eastlake's wife, Mrs. Margaret T. Eastlake, today announced she would be satisfied to be charged with the killing provided the officer were released.

"The boy is absolutely innocent," said Miss Knox, referring to Eastlake, who is 36 years old. "They should let him go home. They are trying to fasten this crime on me merely on the conjecture that I was on intimate terms with the poor boy. The idea is preposterous. Why I am old enough to be Roger's mother."

Coincident with Miss Knox's statement which was given out over the protest of her attorney, Eastlake made his first statement for publication, telling how he had planned to visit this city Saturday to view a military parade in connection with the fall maneuvers of the marine corps, taking his wife and two children with him.

"I am innocent," Eastlake added, "and there is nothing I would not do to see the slayer of my wife brought to justice. I am not concerned as to whether the slayer was a man or woman."

WOULD PENSION DEAD TIMBER.

Atlantic City, Oct. 4.—It is cheaper for business men to pension the "dead timber" of their organizations than to keep in active service men whose days of usefulness are past, Harry McDonald of Detroit said today in addressing the annual convention of the Outdoor Advertising association.

"You can't teach these men new tricks," he added. "They don't seem to learn the demands made upon us by the modern advertiser. There is no use in keeping a man for service who has rendered in previous years."

GOVERNMENT AGREES TO PAY SOME R. R. CLAIMS

Washington, Oct. 4.—Director General Davis of the railroad administration laid before President Harding and his cabinet today a report showing that up to October 1, claims arising out of government operation of the railway aggregating $356,000,000 had been filed and that of these settlements had been reached aggregating $387,000,000, the government agreeing to pay approximately $117,000,000, or about 30 per cent of the amount of the claims involved.

The report showed that the total in claims filed covered 96,844 miles of road out of a total of 241,000 miles taken over. It was estimated that if claims covering the remaining mileage were put in on the same basis, the aggregate asked by the carriers would reach $1,037,000,000.

Substantially all of the settlements agreed upon have been paid since January 2 and the majority of them since April 1.

DRY ENFORCEMENT IS ELECTION ISSUE

Democrats and Republicans of New Jersey Divide Clearly on the Subject

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 4.—The Democrats and Republicans of New Jersey in their respective state conventions today adopted party platforms for the campaign which will culminate in the selection of a legislature at the general election next month. The issue between the parties was clearly drawn on prohibition enforcement, on which probably the chief fight of the campaign will be made.

The Republican platform recommended strict prohibition enforcement, but did not especially mention the Van Ness state enforcement act, thus leaving candidates in counties where the provision of the law failing to provide jury trials for alleged offenders is under attack, free to favor modification of the statute.

The Democrats, on the other hand, promised, if they gained control of the legislature, to repeal the Van Ness act. The convention also condemned the Volstead act and advocated its modification or repeal, declaring it did not represent the true spirit of the eighteenth amendment and was "tolstied upon an unwilling people by paid professional reformers."

PETITION OF BANKRUPTCY AGAINST ROCHESTER FIRM

Rochester, Oct. 4.—Twenty-seven hundred stockholders in 30 states of the United States and in Europe are affected by an involuntary petition in bankruptcy filed in United States district court in Buffalo today against the Polish Manufacturing company of this city. The petition was filed by three New York creditors, whose combined claims amount to $2,050. The petitioners allege that the company committed an act of bankruptcy yesterday when it made a general assignment of its assets to Julius H. Leopert of Rochester and R. P. Boyd of New York. A statement by the company on August 29 showed assets of $650,981 and liabilities of $328,000.

The company was organized in 1919 by capital contributions from Americans of Polish descent, made chiefly in the form of Liberty bonds. The stockholders live mainly in the vicinity of Rochester, New York, Philadelphia and Camden, N. J. One hundred live in Europe, mainly in Poland.

Cook of South Dakota; to Guatemala, Roy Davis of Missouri; to Czechoslovakia, Lewis Easton of New York; to Bulgaria, Charles S. Wilson of Maine; to Finland, Charles L. Kagey of Kansas; to Spain, Edwin E. Brodie of Oregon.

At the same time the White House announced the selection of J. Morton Howell of Dayton, Ohio, as special diplomatic agent and consul general at Cairo, Egypt.

RELEASED FROM ASYLUM, WOMAN KILLS HUSBAND

Yonkers, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Mary W. Tomlinson, who was arrested today on a charge of murdering her husband, Albert W. Tomlinson, by crushing his head with a hammer while he slept, was arraigned before a coroner's jury tonight and committed to the Hudson River State hospital for the insane at Poughkeepsie pending further action. She had been paroled in her husband's care from that institution only a few hours before the murder was committed.

Richard Young, nephew of Tomlinson, was the chief witness before the jury. He told of Mrs. Tomlinson coming to his room early this morning and saying she could not sleep and she feared her husband. He summoned the family physician whose appearance so excited the woman that the police were called and upon making an investigation they found Tomlinson dead.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY.

Albany, Oct. 4.—Governor Miller, in conformity with the request of President Harding, designated October 8 as fire prevention day in a proclamation made public tonight.

KNOW WHERE FATTY GOT MOST OF BOOZE

With Details in Hand, Prosecutor Will Place Arbuckle Under Arrest Today

San Francisco, Oct. 4.—The source of a part of the liquor that was delivered to the hotel suite of Roscoe C. Arbuckle when a party was given following which the death of Miss Virginia Rappe occurred, was disclosed here today in an affidavit published in the San Francisco Bulletin. At the same time, it was announced by Robert H. McCormack, assistant United States attorney general in charge of prosecution, that arrangements have been completed to arrest Arbuckle for alleged violations of the prohibition laws when he arrives here tomorrow.

The affidavit was made by Jack Lawrence, who said he was a "whiskey runner." The affidavit coincides with a statement made by Mr. McCormack that the liquor came from a grill two blocks from the hotel.

Lawrence, in his affidavit, made statements as follows:

"On Saturday, September 3, I delivered four bottles of whiskey at the St. Francis hotel, and on Monday, the 5th, I delivered 12 more bottles."

Lawrence also stated in his affidavit that most of the liquor he delivered came from Canada, but that a part of it was "moonshine" made in the mountains.

Mr. McCormack announced two others will be arrested with Arbuckle.

CHARGE NEWSPAPERS 'COLORED' STRIKE

Misrepresented Workers in Steel Mill Troubles of 1919, Investigators Report

New York, Oct. 4.—The final section of the supplementary report on the steel strike of 1919, made by the commission of inquiry of the Interchurch World movement, charges newspapers, particularly those of Pittsburgh, with handling news of the strike in such a way that the strikers felt the press took sides and lent itself to strike-breaking activities.

The pulpits of the report stated, "It did not as a body exert any important influence on the strike, despite widespread sympathy for the strikers among clergymen who found no means to make their views effective."

The portion of the report devoted to the press analyzes 400 issues of English language Pittsburgh dailies appearing during the first two months of the strike.

It cites a number of alleged examples of misrepresentations of facts and asserts that "no Pittsburgh paper intended to offer at any time a consistent and thorough examination of the causes of the strike."

The report finds that the newspapers were chiefly responsible for the common belief in Pittsburgh that the strike was revolutionary, un-American and Bolshevik.

"Without a single exception worthy of note," it asserts, "the statements, demands, grievances and testimony from the side of the strikers were printed under headlines or in context tending to give the impression that what the striking steel workers sought to do was to overthrow the government and to restore public confidence and industrial peace by a decisive verdict in the present government's favor. Labor would be the first to benefit by such a verdict, he added."

RAILROAD MEN NOT 'BLUFFING'

Efforts to Minimize Possibility of a General Walk-Out Are Denounced by Switchmen's Head

Chicago, Oct. 4.—With the counting of strike ballots of four big railroad unions well under way, evidence developed today that difference of opinion exists among the union leaders. While officials of some of the unions have minimized the possibility of a general walk-out, the president of one of the organizations today declared his men were not bluffing and would strike if a majority favored that action.

An official of the switchmen's union of North America also announced that his men were voting on other questions than the 12 per cent wage cut, put into effect July 11, taking issue with a statement by Warren S. Stone, head of the engineers, who declared at Cleveland last week that wages was the only subject at issue.

"It is not a question of wages alone," the switchmen's official said, "but an effort is being made to take away working conditions and agreements which have been in effect for years."

It was learned today that the leaders of the switchmen's union will abide by the strike vote although the joint ballot authorized the executive officers to use their own discretion in calling a strike.

WOULD ESTABLISH COURT FOR CAPITAL AND LABOR

Washington, Oct. 4.—Legislation to establish a federal tribunal of industrial relations to bring capital and labor into more harmonious action was said to be under consideration by members of the Senate education and labor committee. Such a tribunal has been suggested by Chairman Kenyon of the committee.

The plan which proposes a federal "Supreme Court of Industry" with decrees enforced by public and not through penal statutes, is to be brought up in connection with the committee's report on the West Virginia mine disorders.

Chairman Kenyon said today that the plan contemplated enactment of an industrial code defining unquestionable rights of both labor and capital.

BLACK-SKINNED CHICK IS THE 'VERY LATEST'

New York, Oct. 4.—A chicken, black-skinned from drum sticks to neck, has been developed at the Carnegie Institute's experimental evolution station at Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island.

The bird popped into the world while scientists were playing put and take with chromosomes, germ plasma, whose change in number and shape is held responsible by biologists for racial coloring.

The dusky chick is not easily distinguishable from its ordinary white-skinned sister, for it is fully clothed in regulation feathers. By lifting the feathers, however, the skin is revealed jet black, warranted not to run.

TARIFF ISSUE UP IN CANADA

Liberal and Progressive Parties Demand Free Trade Be Established

PREMIER OPPOSES

Meighen, in Election Manifesto, Declares Present Policy Must Be Adhered To

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 4.—The tariff tonight was made the chief issue in Canada's political campaign this fall. Following the proclamation of Governor General Lord Dufferin's election manifesto today, Premier Meighen issued his election manifesto to the Canadian people stating that the best interests of the dominion could only be served through a continuance of the present tariff policy, and that the fight in the present election was wholly against free trade.

Any downward revision of the tariff, such as that proposed by the liberal and progressive parties, the premier said, would mean the surrender of advances made as a self-contained, aggressive industrial nation and a reversion to "a position where dependence upon a more favorable American tariff policy would become a national aspiration."

Industry Would Be Crippled.

The premier, who is the head of the conservative party, declared that the introduction of the tariff policies of the liberals and progressives would result in the closing down of thousands of industries. He also attributed a large part of the present industrial unrest to the tariff propaganda of the opposition.

"Pointing out that 12 years ago the people of Canada realized the need of a protective tariff to prevent a submissive relationship toward the United States," the premier declared their experience since then has conclusively shown the need of the policy of protection.

The opposition policies, he asserted, would mean more buying from and less selling to the United States. This would mean the loss of millions in exchange alone, he added, while the farmers would find that with the depreciation of Canadian industry the burden of taxation would fall heavier and heavier upon themselves.

The premier asked the voters to decide against all such opposition policies and to restore public confidence and industrial peace by a decisive verdict in the present government's favor. Labor would be the first to benefit by such a verdict, he added.

LEDoux's 'JOBLESS ARMY'

SERENADES WHITE HOUSE

Washington, Oct. 4.—Urban Ledoux, who came here to impress the administration with the necessity of aid for the unemployed, marched the vanguard of his army of jobless men to the White House today and serenaded the executive offices while the cabinet was in session there.

Twenty men gathered together by Ledoux from the streets of Washington were in the contingent whose purpose was declared by their leader to arrange for a conference between President Harding and the unemployed who are to be brought here as part of the movement from other cities.

Under the direction of a leader the men stood in single rank and sang war songs while Ledoux conferred with Secretary Christian. No appointment, however, was made with the President. Mr. Christian suggesting to Ledoux that the purposes of the movement had been fully fulfilled to the chief executive by Ledoux himself in the interview he had last week.

Dream of Metropolitan Baseball Fans for Score of Years Becomes a Reality This Afternoon

FANS, MORE FANS

All Reserved Seats Sold Out, and Lines Form at Unreserved Sections of Grandstand

(By The Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 4.—The dream of the metropolitan baseball fans has become a reality.

For years, local followers of the national game have hoped for a world series battle between the New York National and American league teams. Now, after 19 years of waiting, the Giants and Yankees are to grapple for the supreme prize of professional baseball.

On the Polo grounds tomorrow afternoon, the rival league 1921 pennant winners meet in the first of a series of best five out of nine games which is expected to add record breaking features to the long history of the world series. Led by John McGraw and Miller Huggins, the Giants and Yankees will scamp out on the diamond shortly after noon with a combination of stars seldom, if ever, equaled in the annals of the game.

Regardless of the question of individual brilliancy against mechanical playing perfection, the fact remains that never in the history of Greater New York's participation in the world series has the interest in the outcome been so keen.

"Stand in Line" Is Long.

Reserved seats and boxes under the control of the teams are reported to be sold out. Thousands of spectators, who would have been willing to pay a premium for the privilege of seeing a team, must take their chances in the long lines of standees already forming before the gates leading to the unreserved sections of the stands. While the Polo grounds is not the largest arena in the country, it is freely predicted that should the series go seven or eight games, as is generally expected, the total attendance and gate receipts will surpass figures made in past series.

sections of the country have poured into the city to see the games. Hotels report their accommodations taxed to the limit.

It is generally conceded that the teams are about evenly matched, advantage to a certain point for one team being offset by greater power or strength in another section of attack or defense of the rival combination. As a result, what betting is being done is at even money or the very slightest of odds.

In attack, close and impartial followers of the game are inclined to give the Yankees a slight margin of advantage. With their heavy-hitting ability, they are extremely dangerous contenders until the final out. Defensively, the team is not always as steady as admirers wish. It is also doubtful if the Yankees play with the same team coordination that the Giants have shown at times this year. Viewed from another angle, it may be said that if the Nationals excel in team work, the Americans balance the scales with individual batting. This is particularly true in the case of such clean hitters as Ruth, Kelly, the Meusel brothers and other extra-base hitters in the rival clans. In base stealing and strategy on the base lines, which may or may not have an important bearing upon the final outcome, the Giants are generally thought to have a slight edge.

Yankees Are "Some" Scorers. With all the difference in base stealing and only a small difference in number of hits the Giants have been far behind the Huggins as a scoring combination. Each played 153 games and the Giants with 139 steals and 1,533 hits, scored 840 runs. On the other hand the Yankees, with only 88 steals and a total of 1,579 hits, only 26 more than the Giants, amassed a total of 938 runs, almost 100 more than the McGrawmen. The Giants were the greatest scoring machine in their league but they ranked far behind the Yankees, Indians and Tigers in the American league. The Huggins were the greatest scoring machine of the year, just as the Giants were the best on the bases.

No consideration of the rival clubs would be complete without an analysis of the reserve strength, both offensive and defensive. In both ways the Huggins hold the edge. Frank Baker, who can hit either right hander or southpaw, heads the Yankees' pinch-hitting division, and Hub Roth, another major league veteran, is especially effective against left handers. Al Devorner has batted far above .300 against American league pitching, and Hawks, who hits occasionally in the pinch against right handers, has a mark of .236. Fewster has hit .277 against both styles of pitching this year. Mays, who has clouted the ball at a .336 clip in 50 games, is also available for pinch hitting against right handers in any game which he does not pitch.

McGraw's best pinch hitters are Smith when Snyder is catching, and Snyder when Smith is behind the bat. Smith is a left handed hitter and, as Snyder catches against southpaw pitching Smith as a pinch hitter would have to hit against a left hander. The same condition exists in regard to Snyder, who is a right handed hitter and would have to hit against a right hander. Brown, who has hit .256, and Cunningham with a .263 average are next in line. These two, like Hawks, lack major league experience, while Baker, Roth and Fewster are veterans. Stengel, a left hander with the stick, has batted .257 this year.

If injuries should befall any of the regulars of the two clubs, Huggins would be better fixed in reserve material than McGraw. Huggins might use Ruth at first base, Fewster at second base, shortstop or third, Baker at third, Mitchell at short, Fewster in left field, Roth in right or center. McGraw has only Kopf, a collegian, for infield utility work unless he breaks into his outfield and calls in Burns or Young. Neither plays as well in the infield as the Yankees mentioned above. In the outfield McGraw is better fixed, having Stengel, Brown and Cunningham.

The Probable Line Up.

So far as the physical condition of the players is concerned, both teams will enter the fray 100 per cent strong.

The probable batting order: Nationals—Burns cf, Bancroft ss, Frisch 3b, Young rf, Kelly 1b, E. Meusel lf, Hawlings 2b, Snyder c, Neft or Toney p. Americans—Miller cf, Peckinpaugh ss, Ruth lf, B. Meusel rf, Pipp 3b, Ward 2b, McNally 3b, Schang c, Mays or Shawkey p.

GIRL HAS NARROW ESCAPE

New Berlin Farmer Stops Machine Within Its Own Limits and Prevents Serious Injury to Helen St. John of West End.—Girl Suffers Bruises to Head and Body.

Helen St. John, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. St. John, was painfully, but it is thought not seriously, injured yesterday afternoon when she was struck by an automobile. Helen, with several other children, had just left the Plains school house and they started for their homes playing together as they went along. Two or three automobiles were proceeding along the road at the time, and Helen evidently became confused and stepped in front of one of the machines. The driver of the auto, which was coming toward the city at a moderate rate of speed, had his machine well under control, however, and stopped it within a car length.

The child was struck a glancing blow and thrown to one side, and under the machine. When the car had stopped, the rear wheels were nearly on the prostrate girl, and had they gone a little farther undoubtedly would have crushed her. The girl was carried to a nearby house and a physician summoned, who found that no bones were broken, her injuries consisting of bruises on the head and body.

Mr. St. John, father of the girl, called the The Star office last evening to state that he placed no blame whatever on the driver of the machine, and rather was grateful to him for saving her life. The driver showed every consideration, giving his name and address, that of William McAdams, a New Berlin farmer, and offering every possible assistance.

Helen St. John was reported last evening to be resting comfortably and it is thought her injuries will have no serious consequences.

Many friends of Albert Lough will learn with regret that he is confined to his home at 248 Chestnut street, suffering with a nervous breakdown. Dr. Augustin is the attending physician.

GILBOA RESERVOIR ROADS

Those to Be Built by New York City Will Be of Dirt and Will Be Better Than Ones Closed by Reservoir Construction, Says President Gillespie of Board of Water Supply.

That the present intention of the city of New York was to build a dirt road around the Gilboa reservoir in Schoharie county, was the testimony given by George J. Gillespie, president of the board of water supply of the city of New York, before the commission at Kingston. President Gillespie appeared before the commission in response to a subpoena issued out of the commission and signed by Chairman Kelly.

Mr. Gillespie, who had been president of the board of water supply since May 1, 1920, was examined by Clyde M. Freyer, district attorney of Schoharie county, who appeared for the town of Gilboa. The board of water supply of the city of New York has charge of the securing of water for the city and conveying it to New York city, the construction of the reservoirs, etc., but does not have charge of the maintaining of the reservoirs after completion. Questions as to maintenance of the Ashokan reservoir were not answered by Mr. Gillespie as his board has nothing to do with the Ashokan reservoir since its completion and turning over to the department of water, gas and electricity.

The various contracts entered into by the city of New York for construction of substitute highways around the Gilboa dam were produced by the city as well as contracts for two bridges. These contracts were not placed in evidence before the commission, being only marked for identification until Mr. Freyer could examine them.

In an effort to get at the important facts as to what kind of highways were to be constructed around the Gilboa dam Mr. Freyer put that question to the witness and it was objected to by counsel for the city of New York on the grounds that the contracts were the best evidence and spoke for themselves. However at the conclusion of the examination this objection was withdrawn and Mr. Gillespie was allowed to answer.

To the question Mr. Gillespie replied that there were three ways of answering the question. One answer was "as per contract," another answer was "as good as the ones closed," and a third answer was "all roads closed are dirt roads and the roads to be constructed are of dirt of better quality and better grade."

"Y" BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

Big Event Starts Next Monday Night, With Ten Five-Man Teams.

At a largely-attended meeting of bowlers held at the Y. M. C. A. last night, preparations were made for the annual bowling tournament, which will begin next Monday night at the "Y" alleys. As an indication, more than 100 games were rolled yesterday and last night.

The bowlers have been divided into ten five-man teams, the captains of which follow: Ralph B. Hotelling, Anthony Chircorelli, Harvey Westcott, M. B. Skinner, Morton Babbitt, Ralph Ormiston, Evans Merchant, Harvey C. Sackett, Carlton B. Lattin and Emmett L. Quackenbush.

An important meeting of the captains will be held at the "Y" tonight at 7:30 o'clock, when the personnel of the various teams will be completed and final plans for the start of the tournament discussed.

TO COMPLETE TURNPIKE.

Historic Cherry Valley Turnpike to Be Finished Early Next Year.

The improvement of the historic Cherry Valley turnpike, once the main route from Albany to Syracuse and the West, will be finished early next year, according to State Highway Commissioner Sisson, says the Albany Journal. Over this road the farm products from all this section were hauled to the Albany market before the days of railroads.

Recently Commissioner Sisson placed 10.58 miles of the road between Cherry Valley and Canajoharie under contract and plans for reconstructing the Guilford-Duanesburg and the Sloanville-Sharon parts of the road are being prepared and the contracts will be awarded at one of the winter lettings.

The entire length of the turnpike from Albany to Syracuse about 120 miles. When it is completed it will relieve the pressure of traffic along the Mohawk Valley and will open up to motorists a section of the state rich in historic memories.

There has been an urgent demand for the completion of the road. It had been neglected in the past because it passes through the extreme northern or southern parts of various counties and the interest of the boards of supervisors has been centered on the more centrally located highways. Commissioner Sisson is giving special attention to the completion of this highway.

FRANCE AND THE WORLD WAR

France and the world war 12pt. Dr. G. W. Augustin delivers interesting address Monday evening at Methodist Church in Laurens—Other Laurens Matters.

Laurens, Oct. 4.—There was a large attendance Monday evening at the monthly meeting of the Men's Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church. A vocal trio, consisting of E. J. Irish, Adelbert Boyd and Sidney Ford, rendered several fine selections, after which Dr. George W. Augustin gave the address of the evening, his theme being "France, the Causes of the World War and What We Have Gained."

Grated, the speaker said, possessing the heart of humanity, brought about the war. Germany was chiefly guilty, yet, England having built up a great navy and France and Germany great armies, it was inevitable that there should come a time when they would try out their great agencies of destruction. Taking millions of men from their homes, removing them from moral influences and permitting the free use of intoxicants, only the worst possible in way of horrors and atrocities could have been expected from the German army. Eighty per cent of taxation has gone to keep up the great armies and navies of the world. While we have not yet reached the millennium, the time has come when the nations of the world should reduce their armaments. At present the United States is the only nation having a smaller army than before the war.

The United States, which entered the war from a humanitarian standpoint, should be the nation ultimately to bring an end to world-wide hostilities.

In closing Dr. Augustin paid a splendid tribute to the American chaplains, commending their usefulness and valor in the great conflict and giving his conviction that only a nation which honors God and follows the divine teachings will be able to be of material helplessness to their fellow men.

How to Make Pure Fruit Jelly in 10 Minutes for 7c a glass

Jelly making is an art no longer. Neither is it hard work or expensive. Mother Nature has provided a way to take the element of chance out of jelly making. A wonderful discovery now permits every home to have these toothsome delicacies so rich in food value and relished by the whole family, especially children.

Delicious fruit jelly can also now be made any time of the year. The method is very simple. Dissolve 5 heaping cups (2½ lbs.) of sugar in 2½ cups (1¼ lbs.) of water in a large saucepan and bring to a boil. At once add one bottle of Certo, stirring constantly. Bring to a boil again for one-half minute. Remove from fire, let stand a minute, skim and pour into glasses.

Jellying is absolutely certain because Certo contains all the elements of fruit jelly. Time required is not over 10 minutes on a gas stove, cost of sugar and Certo at any grocery or drug store is not over 52 cents (sugar at 7c lb.), and the result is eight half-pound glasses of apple flavored jelly at seven cents a glass. A variety of flavors may also be made from one batch by adding a few drops of any desired flavoring, like lemon, mint or orange to the glasses before filling.

Certo is that mysterious substance some fruits have that "put the jelly in jelly." It is a pure fruit product—contains no gelatine, chemical or preservative. Any fruit juice can be used with it. All the flavor and color of this fruit are retained, because only a half-minute's boiling is required. You also save fuel, time and worry.

Get a bottle of Certo with a recipe book from your grocer or druggist today. If he does not have it, ask him to order it from his jobber. Try it with the first fruit juice—fresh or canned—that you have. Learn the new, short and economical method of jelly making and you'll never return to the old.

If your grocer or druggist does not have Certo, please telephone number 216 to learn where to obtain it.

CURRENT COMMENT.
Following on the heels of the Sullivan divorce case come the marital infidelities of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. McCormick of Chicago, whose prominence, like that of the Sullivans, grows largely out of their financial and social standing. The McCormicks announce definitely that they are living apart, or at least Mr. McCormick does; and it is stated by a friend that he will apply for a divorce. The real trouble appears to be that both have too much money. Mr. McCormick is of the great harvester company, and his wife a daughter of John D. Rockefeller. Given only moderate conditions and they would have probably have got along all right. With great wealth they have been able to go their separate ways.

In all France, says a cable dispatch of Monday, there are only 15,000 men out of work—less than that number says the government report. The two great sufferers of the war were France and Germany, and they seem likely to be the first to rehabilitate themselves economically. The readjustment of capital and labor began with the end of the war, and as a result both nations are now prospering. There is an example which Italy, England and the United States might well follow.

The investigation by a jury of 12 prominent attorneys of Washington as to the conduct of Samuel T. Ansell and E. C. Hoyer, attorneys for Grover Bergdoll, notorious draft evader, has resulted in a verdict that neither member of the firm was guilty of conspiracy to aid in their client's escape. This exonerates the attorneys, as doubtless it should do, but by no means their client, as some newspapers appear to intimate when they assert that far more fuss has been made over Bergdoll than over any other draft evader. While this is true, it is properly asserted that there was no other draft evader who made the government so much trouble, or who, escaping to Germany, has so flouted his audacity in the face of the government. If Bergdoll can be extradited, he should have the full penalty of the laws of the nation of which he is a disloyal citizen.

The magnificent gifts made this week by the Johnsons to Johnson City, Endicott and the city of Binghamton will remain for a perpetual memorial of men who, making their fortunes in city and vicinity, have not proved either ungrateful to their employers or ungrateful of their city's duties and opportunities. Parks, club houses and athletic fields, and in Johnson City a donation of $100,000 for a municipal betterment, are things by means of which the Johnsons have seen fit to express their appreciation of the three towns located at the confluence of the Chenango and Susquehanna rivers. The public now is liberal in expressions of gratitude, and that gratitude will not be evanescent. Rather it will continue as long as the memorials themselves endure.

Though the public generally is anxious for a favorable issue of the disarmament conference—meaning thereby an agreement by which the military burden on the nations of the world will be greatly reduced, there seems still to be grave doubt as to the outcome. The trouble is that in the various nations there is no one another. If there were actual confidence, if there was a feeling of general unity and a belief that all the nations actually desire what they are professedly going into conference about, then there would come to pass the saving that is written, ancient the beating of swords into plowshares and the leveling of war no more. As it is, each seems to distrust one or more of the others, and to be willing to disarm only to a limited extent, which will still leave it well equipped for fighting. If there could be actual confidence, and a good reason for it, then the personal desires of fighting men, and of manufacturers who profit by the making of ships and munitions, would not want to prevent actual and not merely a show of disarming.

G. T. H. GETS BIG VERDICT.
Highest Illinois Court Confirms Infringement Judgment for $450,000.
Hon. George W. Fairchild, who is president of the board of managers of the Computing-Tabulating-Recording company, received a telegram from the company attorneys in Chicago yesterday announcing that the final court in the state of Illinois had affirmed the verdict of the trial court for $450,000 in an action for infringement brought against the Toledo Semic company for infringing certain patents held by the scales department of the former company. As this decision is final, it will settle in favor of the I-T-R company a question which has for a long time been in the courts. Moreover the result will be learned with pleasure by stockholders of the latter company, of whom there are many in Oneonta and vicinity.

Oneonta Loses—Afton Gains.
Mr. and Mrs. Dan Jennings, for 27 years residents of Oneonta, left last evening for Afton, where they will in the future reside. Mr. Jennings was for years a member of the jewelry firm of Jennings & Bates on Broad street and was later connected with the E. D. Lewis jewelry store until ill health compelled his retirement several months ago. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings will regret their departure from the city, where they had so long lived, but will wish them good fortune and a speedy return of Mr. Jennings' former good health, in their new location.

THE PRESS AND THE PUBLIC
Matty the Magnificent.
There have been pitchers almost as great as Mathewson; one or two, say, he was more expert physically. But none approached him in the rare mixture of qualities that endeared him to the public and made him a genuinely good example for the youngsters. For him no rowdiness, no baiting of umpires, no sulking, no spiking, no quitting. In victory he was admirable, but in defeat he was magnificent. No sportsman, amateur or professional, ever took a beating with better grace. Matty, to the boy, was the mirror of his own ambition. The tall, broad shouldered figure, the handsome face beneath the peaked cap, the watchful eyes turning from the batsman to base runner, the fine swing of the big, lithe frame as the ball started for the plate—none can forget the picture that was visible at the Polo grounds year after year, and now can recall it without the wish that there were more Mathewsons and that Big Six was himself again.—(New York Herald.)

Return of Hand-Carried Skirt
Those winter skirts ten inches from the ground will give their wearers the discomfort of being at least two inches wet several times if it happens to have a normal "good old fashioned" winter.—(Lewell-Courier Citizen.)

Motoring as a State of War.
Popular conceptions of the deadliness of the automobile derived from local death lists hardly do justice to its destructiveness to human life. The estimate is made by the Insurance Press that life insurance companies of the country paid $4,500,000 in death claims from automobile fatalities during 1920, and statistics are quoted indicating that for the year motorizing killed 12,000 persons in the United States, injuring 1,500,000 and caused disabilities and property damages amounting to more than $1,000,000,000.

This is a prodigious total of death and destruction. The car, ever taking such a toll of life and it would require a good many disastrous train wrecks to effect a property loss of $1,000,000,000. Motorizing, indeed, in the light of these figures, is a state of war. They army tanks may be an instrument of slaughter, but the automobile is the real death-car.—(New York World.)

The Senate Exonerates Newberry.
The moral effect on a confirmation by the Senate itself of the committee's report can be discerned in advance. The effect will be immoral. More is than admitted elected through exorbitant and corrupt expenditures. He pleads ignorance. The fact remains that to confirm his election is to confirm an infamous election. Roosevelt would have spoken with the heat of cannon on this point, as his attitude in the Lorimer case testifies. The Senate, if it welcomes Mr. Newberry, will extend an invitation to others to imitate his example. Whether Senator Newberry winked at what was done in his behalf or was so ill-informed and incapable as to be ignorant of it is beside the point. Other men can do as he did for them what he did for him. The Senate committee report condones corruption and the improper use of money. In doing so it blackens the reputation of the Senate and discourages clean politics.—(New York Globe.)

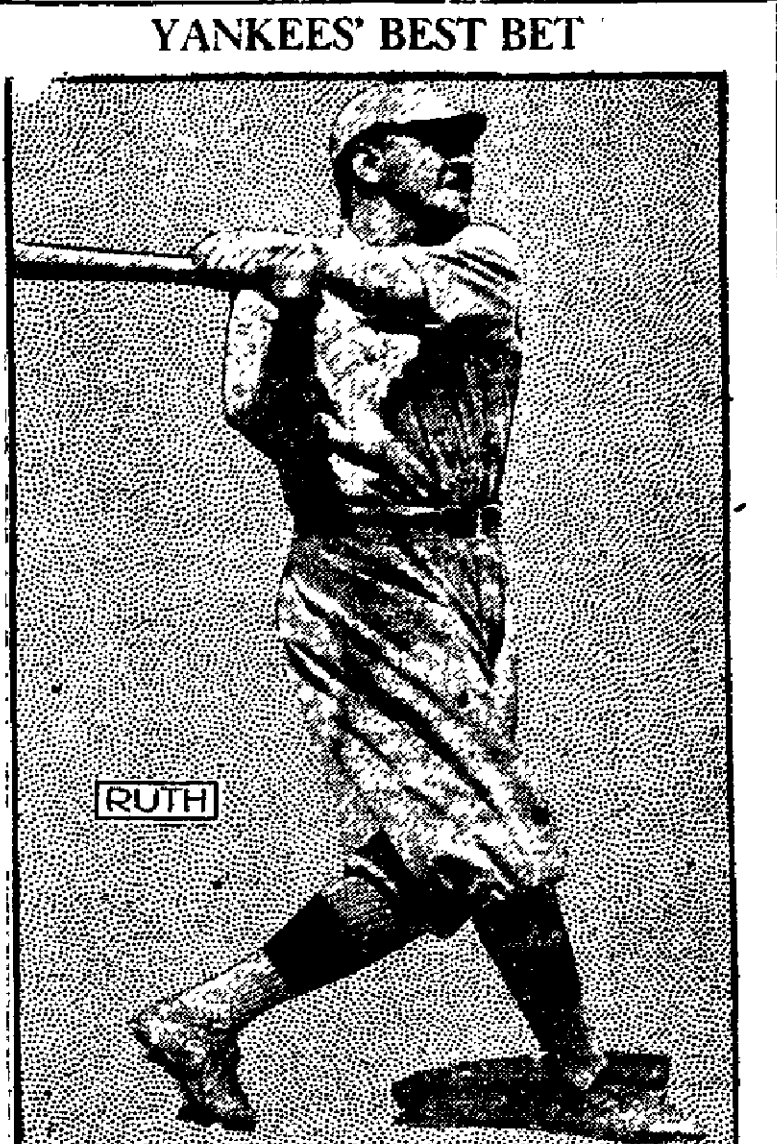

He Knows It Now.
Another American citizen who thought he knew more about Russia than the United States Department of State knows better now. He was of those who regarded the Soviets as a much-maligned people. He was vociferous about it. Ludwig C. A. Martens was a distinguished statesman and diplomat, and to deport Martens was an outrage, the way he looked at it then. Emerson F. Jennings was in Russia six months. He comes out a under but a wiser man. The Soviet leaders including Martens, are no longer distinguished statesmen and gentlemen. They are just "plain crooks." They failed to carry out their contracts with him. He witnessed things in Russia that make him despair of the country and everything in it.

The man from Bethlehem has learned his little lesson through a six months' term in the school of penitence. He seems to have been one of those who would have learned it in no other way. He and others ridden by the same obsession have had plenty of warnings.—(Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

Historic Figures.
"Do you think the historic figures of the future will be greater than those of the past?"
"I'm afraid so," replied Senator Sorghum. "The figures suggested in connection with congressional appropriations are becoming larger every year."—(Washington Star.)

Wasn't a Callopie.
Police Captain: "What's all the college kids looking so blue about today?"

Interesting Missionary Meeting.
At the regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church, held yesterday afternoon in the church parlors, Mrs. W. H. Wilson had charge of the program, her subject being, "Perils, the False Prophet and His Followers." The paper, which was much enjoyed and appreciated, told of the history of the Persean people, their customs and rites, and of the difficulty of missionary work on account of its insincerity and the hatred felt for the Christian religion. The paper was of special interest to the local church as the son and daughter of Rev. H. H. Allen, pastor of the church here about thirty years ago, are missionaries in that country.

COMMUNITY OPEN HOUSE
Project a Big Forward Step in Civic and Social Development in Oneonta of Which Citizens Should Be Proud.

The Oneonta Community house, 17 Ford avenue, is to be open for inspection all day and evening of Friday and Saturday, October 7 and 8. Although the Community house has been in use since June, it was not until last week that all equipment planned for was installed and work in all departments in operation.

The building houses offices of the Red Cross, Tuberculosis committee, and Family Social Work association, as well as a general office where all clerical work is done. Besides these there are club rooms and kitchen for various girls' organizations. Two girls' rooms are provided, one waiting room and one examining room. Since the opening of the house three regular clinics have been developed, a baby clinic, a tuberculosis clinic and a dental clinic.

The baby clinic is under the direction of Dr. Champlin and Miss Robertson, the Red Cross nurse. From five to fifteen mothers bring their babies every week for examination and advice. The tuberculosis clinic is under the auspices of the County Tuberculosis committee and is always well attended. Dr. Winsor makes the examinations, assisted by Miss Eells, the county tuberculosis nurse.

The dental clinic, held twice a week, is promoted by the Red Cross and City Health department. Dr. Delemeter and Miss Holton have charge of the clinic with the cooperation of Miss Knopf, the city nurse. There is a vast demand for this service which is free to children whose dental care is not otherwise provided for. Other clinics are planned to be developed as soon as time and resources are available.

In addition to the Community house the Boy Scouts have the garage modeled into club rooms for their various needs. The Community house is a big step forward in civic and social development, of which all Oneonta should be proud. It belongs to and is at the service of every citizen. Its doors are formally opened to the public next Friday and Saturday, when every citizen and visitor is invited to inspect their new home.

MORRIS FAIR IS WITH US
"Last and Best" of Vigority Fair Comes Out in All Its Old-Time Glory — Fast Racing Program Scheduled for Today.
Morris, Oct. 4. — The 1921 edition of the Morris fair got under way today with all prospects pointing to the "best fair yet." Perhaps we have said that before, but nevertheless the statement never was better applicable than it is today. With all sorts of agricultural exhibits, an attractive midway and red hot horse racing, there should and will be large crowds during the big days of the exhibition. There was a good crowd on the grounds today, considering the fact that it was opening day, owing no doubt to the fine fall weather which prevailed and which the weatherman says will be with us again tomorrow. The principal features on today's program were the band concert by the Endicott-Johnson band and the platform attractions. The band was heartily welcomed by the fair crowds and furnished excellent music. The four platform attractions included a wire balancing act, the "Iron Jawed" woman and a tumbling act. All were of the highest class and above the average of past years. An added feature today was the exhibition given by the state troopers, about a dozen of whom are doing excellent traffic duty about the grounds. The troopers did some remarkable stunts with the assistance of their faithful horses, one man standing on two galloping horses, and the climax being when five men, formed a pyramid atop the horses. The act was not on the program, but probably attracted more attention than did the stage performance. The troopers probably will perform again tomorrow. There was a "green" horse race today, in which were entered horses from Morris and vicinity which have never had track experience. The race occasioned considerable interest. The results were:
G. Barton, West Laurens ... 1 1 1
George Sprague, Morris ... 3 2 2
Harry Sargent, Morris ... 3 3 3
Time—2:30, 2:40, 2:56.
With continued favorable weather, tomorrow (Wednesday) should be a big day. "Cho Cho" will give his clown act on the stage at 12:30 o'clock. This is his first appearance, and all should make it a point to see him. There will be the other platform attractions, and also two fast races, not "green" races. W. H. La-Hiff, the singing starter, will be, on hand to say "go."

BANDIT CATCHES A TARTAR
Attempt to Hold Up Chief of Police Horton and Sheriff Williams Near Buffalo Early Sunday Morning Fails — Highwayman's Fire Returned.

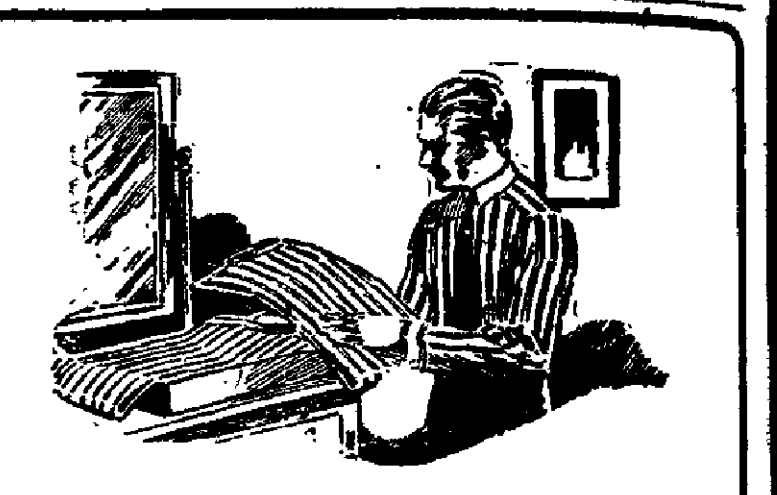

The highwayman who attempted to stop the automobile in which were Chief of Police Frank W. Horton and Sheriff Fred Williams on the state road about 16 miles east of Buffalo early Sunday morning tackled the wrong party. Not only did he fail to make the expected haul, but he found himself a participant in a lively revolver battle in which the officers exchanged shot for shot with their assailant.

Chief Horton and Sheriff Williams were on their way to Buffalo to attend to matters of business concerning the local police department. They had reached a lonely spot on the road at about 1:30 Sunday morning when a man carrying a rifle stepped out into the road and motioned for them to stop. The officers had heard that holdups were frequent occurrences in that section and, believing that this was an attempt, Sheriff Williams "stepped on her." As they passed the bandit he fired twice. Chief Horton seized his revolver, which was lying on the seat beside him, and returned the two shots. Neither the car nor its occupants were hit and evidently the highwayman escaped injury.

It is probable that the bandit was not operating alone. As they approached the man, the Chief saw a car containing several rough looking fellows standing some little distance ahead. They made no attempt to stop the car after the first trial had failed, but both Chief Horton and Sheriff Williams are of the opinion that they were working with the first man and would have come up had he succeeded in stopping the car.

CURRENT FORMS OF UNBELIEF

Discussed by Bishop Berry Who Declares They Hinder the Kingdom—Here Professionalism of Pulpit and Few Prevent Mighty Work Being Done.

"There is prevalent in the world today a very rampant form of unbelief concerning sin and the sense of human guilt," Bishop Berry told a large audience at the First Methodist church last night in discussing the text: "ETAONI SHURDLU PYWFAIR text: 'And He did not many mighty works there because of their unbelief.' No one seems afraid these days of displeasing God though they know things they are doing are injurious to His cause and harmful to society. A sense of guilt has apparently faded from the consciousness of many and they sleep well at night and seem oblivious of any responsibility to God or man. He expressed a desire for some one to sound a clarion note of warning to the clergy and church people to awaken them from the apparent sense of security. God says sin is a disease, and He declares that it is fatal to man's aspirations unless cured by the Divine healer.

Continuing, the eloquent divine said that the world seems absorbed in thirst for mere temporal pleasures and for the things which soon pass away, meanwhile neglecting the weightier things of life. The spiritual progress of the world seems threatened by this condition of things, while we have the assurances of His word and of the things those who have His spirit in their hearts have done, that there is no limit to the power of His grace, we being promised that even greater things shall we do after I have returned to the Father. What the world needs is more souls filled with His spirit and actuated by it to assure an advance of the Kingdom.

Earlier in the sermon Bishop Berry had emphasized the possibility of God's plans being limited and His purposes turned aside because of human attitudes of His designs for the advancement of the race being well-nigh thwarted by the unwillingness of men and women to let His spirit work in and through them. The speaker mentioned that the professionalism of Christianity is the suffering and the woe he sees, and does his work purely professionally. The Christian who is a mere professional does not let the spirit guide them. They are ritualistic and formal, and the reading of the bible a mere literary treat. It rather should be the voice of God speaking to us. We should be helpful and sympathetic and God's spirit can not work in us with our Christian life mere mental assent.

Later the speaker suggested that the superficiality of our spiritual expression as a hindrance to the fullest work. We must have a personal knowledge of saving grace. Education will not do it. One must have some religion before he can have a religious education. The truth is, though it is much lost sight of these days, that we must be born again. Mere tithing the hand or walking down the sawdust trail will not save. Getting into the kingdom is a heart experience. Without abiding faith in a personal savior little progress in Christian life can be made.

Then too we must adjust ourselves to the fact that the work of the spirit is essential for the conquest of the world for Christ. It is needful that I go away, said the Master, that the spirit may come to you. In closing Bishop Berry declared that it is the privilege of every follower to possess the Holy Spirit and the extent to which each is filled with the spirit measures success of their Christian life and the work that can be done for the Master. Mighty works can be done right here in Oneonta if not handicapped by your unbelief the speaker declared.

The theme for this evening will be "Prayer and the Kingdom."

More Brains and Less Chatter.

Instead of the everlasting chatter about the housing problem and high rents, if the people of Oneonta and vicinity, who could easily do it, would just chuck away a measly 25 cents each day and place with me monthly, I would provide the funds for getting 4,000 homes and farms and make rent money pay for them. It would also provide plenty of work and return $2,000 to each of them. It's a fair chance and square deal plan for all little fellows and with no undue gain to any one man or clique of men. I'm now doing it to the tune of four million dollars and if you can't see which side your bread is buttered, go on with your pipe dreams and hot air, but stop whining. Just see, I'm the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. Advt. 11.

CHANGE OF LIBRARY NAME

Residents Approve Change from Oneonta Public to Huntington Memorial as Requested by Local Board.

At a meeting of the regents of the University of the State of New York, held a few days ago in Albany, a resolution was adopted approving the change of the name of the Oneonta Public Library to the Huntington Memorial Library of Oneonta. In anticipation of this change, the library board for some time been locally called by the new name. The approval of the regents now permits it to assume the latter name as its legal title.

As Star Readers will recall, at the time Henry E. Huntington expressed a desire to present the Huntington property fronting on Chestnut, Church and Dietz streets and Lawn avenue to the city of Oneonta, he also gave a notice of his intention to establish a library in the home tract as a perpetual memorial to his mother. At the same time he stated that if the authorities of the Oneonta Public Library desired to have its own library house in the memorial building, it should have privilege of so doing. This offer on the part of Mr. Huntington was promptly accepted by the library trustees, and the donor proceeded to have the building remodeled largely in accordance with their suggestions.

The Public Library was removed from Ford avenue to its new quarters in the summer of 1920, and its operation has ever since been conducted from the new and commodious quarters. As certain difficulties might naturally have arisen from an attempt to maintain separate collections in the same building and possibly under different management, the Oneonta Public Library trustees early felt that a single library under one name would be most desirable, and with this view Mr. Huntington concurred. Accordingly an amendment to the city charter was last winter introduced in the legislature, providing the change of name to the Huntington Memorial library. This amendment which was included with others in a bill which among other things provided for an increase of the number of supervisors in the city, passed the assembly but failed to reach a vote in the senate. There being another course which it was believed should be undertaken, the library trustees applied to the Board of Regents, which granted the original charter, for permission to change to the desired name. The matter was discussed at the June meeting of the regents but was not acted upon, though it had the approval of Hon. Frank B. Gilbert, assistant commissioner and law director of the board; but at the September meeting it was taken up and the desired change in name was ordered.

Universal satisfaction will be felt in the change of name, which links more closely with the magnificent park in which it is located, and at the same time is indicative of public sentiment in Oneonta toward one who has done so much for the city and who moreover has liberally arranged for perpetual care and support alike of park and library.

The first of the Recreation club dances will be held next Monday evening at the High school. Membership tickets to the club may be obtained by any person employed in Oneonta from their employers or at the Chamber of Commerce offices. The dances will be in charge of the Manufacturers association and committees representing the Family Social Work association and the Chamber of Commerce. Further announcements concerning the dances will be made later.

Round Trips Sold All Winter.

The Public Service Commission has granted special permission to the Southern New York Power and Railway company to sell round trip tickets in both directions between Oneonta and Cooperstown for $1.50 the round trip, going and returning the same day. The former permission of the commission expired September 26. By the new order such sale can be continued to March 22, 1922, and is now effective.

BAKER BROS. DISSOLVE

Well Established Hardware Business at 120 and 122 Main Street, Founded Nine Years Ago, to Be Continued by Fred M. Baker.

The hardware firm of Baker Bros., established at 120 and 122 Main street, nine years ago, when Fred M. Baker retired from the firm of Stevens & Baker, and associating himself with his brother, Louis M. Baker, moved across the street and started the business with a new and complete stock of goods, has been dissolved effective as of October 1. The negotiations which had been pending were not finally consummated until yesterday. Fred M. Baker, the senior member, will continue the business as sole proprietor, Louis M. Baker, who retired, has no plans to disclose at present but it is hoped will remain in Oneonta.

Fred M. Baker, who continues the business, has had long experience in the line, having been associated first as a clerk with Stevens & Mills, and later as a partner with Mr. Stevens under the firm name of Stevens & Baker.

Since the business of Baker Bros. was established it has enjoyed the confidence of the public and experienced a good patronage. It will be continued along much the same lines as in the past, with careful attention to giving satisfactory service with right goods at right prices. Mr. Baker thereby confidently hoping to retain a well-earned reputation and a continuation of trade relations with all the store's patrons. There will be, it is expected, no change in the personnel of the clerical force. Fred M. Baker, who now becomes sole owner, expects to add additional lines from time to time, the block affording abundant space. He announces a full and complete line of hardware, stoves and ranges, and a general heating and plumbing business.

Fred M. Baker, at the established location, will receive all accounts due the firm and pay such outstanding obligations as may exist. Many friends will wish him continued success and prosperity.

ONEONTANS AT BIG SERIES

Many Journey to Metropolis to See Yanks and Giants Battle—Star Bulletin Will Serve Stay-at-Homes.

Messrs. L. H. Townsend, S. E. McKean, O. C. McCrum, George B. Baird, J. A. Dewar and R. E. Brigham left yesterday for New York city to attend the World series games between the Giants and the Yankees. Other residents of the city who went earlier in the week on who will go later to witness the last games of the series are Ernest Danusickie, Jesse Leal, Everett Kniskern, Raymond McGuinness, Lawrence Kenney and Paul Shippey.

Probably no other teams in either league have such a following in the city as the Yankees and the Giants, and for that reason the present World series, bringing them together, has aroused unusual interest locally. Many who were unable to go to the metropolis will doubtless follow with keen interest the detailed reports which The Star will receive during the progress of the games.

URGED TO CO-OPERATE

Appeal Issued to Citizens to Unite in Fire Prevention Week Program and Clean Up All Yards and Cellars.

Next week is fire prevention week and the following appeal to citizens to cooperate in its observance and to clean up all cellars, attics and yards has been issued by Mayor Capersley and that a hearty response on the part of all will help to conserve property and even life itself will be apparent to all.

All over the land today there is a great movement in behalf of fire prevention. Chambers of Commerce, schools, churches and various other organizations are actively interested in lessening the fire hazard. Carelessness is considered to be the chief cause of our huge fire waste of life and material wealth. Every city has its fire department; if this is a public duty then the prevention of fires is equally so. This week all over the United States is known as fire prevention week and I would ask of our people generally that they make a careful inspection of their premises and see that smoke pipes, chimneys, cellars, attics and yards are cleaned up and their property properly safeguarded. Cellars of business places should be carefully cleaned and the accumulation of papers and boxes about the back doors removed. Let everyone be interested to make Oneonta a cleaner and safer city to live in. A. E. Capersley Mayor.
